Trophy Fund Is Abolished By Assembly

Group Also Recommends Collection of Cups For Scrap

MEN PLAN HELP FOR RED CROSS

By unanimous consent, the Men's Student Assembly last Sunday evening lent more of its support to the war effort, in agreeing to abolish the Assembly fund for the purchase of trophy cup awards for intramural athletic competition.

More than that, they went further, to recommend to the Interfraternity council that the cups presently owned by the various fraternities be donated to some responsible collection agency for disposal as scrap metal.

Assembly Action

An Assembly action of a different sort took the form of a wholehearted acceptance of an administration-favored plan for having students lead some of the daily chapel services. The Assembly motion, brought to the floor by Edward A. Adams '45, stated that "the Assembly is in accord with the plan of having student speakers lead chapel services once every two weeks." This motion was passed with no opposing votes.

As it stands, this approval on the part of the Assembly, does no more than to express its favorable reaction to the suggestion offered by the administration. Actual details for student participation in chapel services will have to be worked out in the near future.

Speaker S. Peter Nikitas went ahead with Assembly plans for supporting the Red Cross drive for blood plasma contributions by appointing a committee of three Assemblymen to organize Middlebury's anticipated response to the Red Cross request for donations. This committee, consisting of William M. Desmond'43, Lewis G. En-

Lieut. Edward Gignac
The scars will heal

Edward Gignac x '43 Awarded Silver Star By Army Air Corps

Edward J. Gignac x'43, former Middlebury ski star, was decorated recently by the Army Air corps for gallantry in action with the Silver Star award, according to a letter received by Anthony Wishinski '42.

After leaving Middlebury in the spring of 1940, Gignac entered the Army Air force. The award was believed to have been made somewhere in Australia; he has had more than two years of training and service. In his letter he stated that he had met with some trouble but that he expected the scars to heal

Eastern jumping champion during his last year at Kimball Union academy, Gignac won the intercollegiate ski jumping championship whle a freshman at Middlebury. During that same year he made an exhibition tour of the United States with the foremost skiers, including the national title holder and the world champion at that time.

As an undergraduate at Middlebury, Eddie, as he is known to the student body, took the Civil Aeronautics course which was then offered with goverment aid. Gignac is a member of Kappa Delta Rho.

Middlebury Conference Planned To Present Ideas Of Democracy

By Paul D. Davis '44

Plans for the coming Middlebury conference are not being made in disregard of the war and the premium that the college war program has placed on the time of Middlebury students.

The conference is being planned because of the war. The world's most intelligent men and women have maintained from the beginning of this conflict that we are not only fighting Hitler for military and commercial supremacy, but more important, for the supremacy of the democratic philosophy in the world.

New Ideas

The ideas that make up this philosophy are the newest and best ideas for living together that the world has produced. They have never been realized on a national scale anywhere in the world; most of the world's people have never heard of them.

The student committee is going to bring together at this conference twenty to twenty-five men and women who are working constantly with these ideas, both in theory and in practice. They are not coming here to make the vague pronouncements on democracy, liberty, and justice that are all too familiar to Middlebury students. These words have become excuses for ideas in common speech; they have an excellent sound, but little meaning.

Culture Plans

The conference members will give them meaning by discussing them in terms of concrete achievements and specific plans in democratic culture today, in the fields of economics, politics, literature, art, music, science, religion, and philosophy. An Old Testament story tells how dry bones were raised up to be living men and women again. Middlebury students are going to see the dry bones of language raised up to vigorous, exciting ideas.

Excitement will indeed be an outstanding characteristic of the conference. Pedantry is out. Men like Frederick Schuman, Franz Neumann, Pedro Salinas, Granville Hicks, Rockwell Kent, and Anvin Hansen are not interested in the niceties of logic. Naturally they are concerned with the democratic ideals as an ideology opposed to that offered by the totalitarian states, and they are aware that one of our greatest jobs is to spread this ideology throughout the world, in the minds of the world's people.

But this in itself is not enough. These ideals must be a basis for action or they are nothing. "How do I put these ideas into practice as an economist? as an artist? as a scientist? as a musician? as a philosopher?" The many answers to these questions will be the meat of the conference.

Complaint Not Valid

The complaint that the conference is going to be a waste of valuable time should not be heard when its purpose becomes clear. It is to be an exhibition and an explanation of the idea-weapons which make the offensive of the United Nations a democratic offensive. Hitler's task is easy compared to ours. He has armed his people with the old ideas of hatred and oppression that have characterized the darkest periods of human history. There is nothing new in them, no promise in them; they are the defeatist philosophy of human nature.

We Americans believe that we are fighting for the social expression of the best in human nature. The conference will be a first-hand report of the progress that is being made on this front.

Council Imposes Strict New Rule

Freshmen Now Subject To Severe Penalties For Ruling Violations

Ever-stiffening in its attitude towards the enforcement of its new fraternity rushing system, the Interfraternity council to-day turned its attention to the freshmen, representing them with a new regulation drawn up by the council last night.

The new ruling, designed to clarify one phase of the rushing set-up and to emphasize the importance of abiding by the rules, was read to the freshmen by Interfraternity head William R. Engesser '43 in Gifford Commons this afternoon. The ruling states:

No freshman shall be allowed in any upperclassman's room until after the completion of rushing. Any freshman found guilty of having been in an upperclassman's room will forfit the right to join any fraternity during this school year.

The believed necessity for this action on the part of the Interfraternity council arose as a result of persistent reports of sus-

Lake Pleiad First Outing For Hikers

By Lois C. Faulkner '45

It didn't rain last Sunday and at last the Mountain club held its first hike of the season to Silent Cliff and Lake Pleiad.

The 9 o'clock trucks were filled (anyone who has been on them knows what that means!) and were started noisily on their way. The fun started when a boy came pedalling furiously down the hill, dropped his bike on the grass, and was simultaneously pulled into one of the trucks by cheering friends.

Breathing Spell

Due to the unpredictability of Mountain club trucks, one of them had to give up and rest awhile on the way up. The hikers in the first truck having arrived at the starting-up place, decided to put their time to valuable use. This meant, of course, a rousing game of "Here We Go Loopity-Loop, All On a Saturday Night." (anyone who does not know the fine points of the game, see Paul Crocker.) "Shoo-Fly" and "Paw-Paw" also had their moments of popularity.

Finally, the winded truck puffed in an appearance and the hike up hill was on, with Lou Haines at the head.

The cave being mastered by both the direct and round-about approach, the downhill slide began. Best methods: 1. merely sit, feet first, and let the law of gravity take its course or 2. let yourself go and pray for wings.

Bailey's Falls

The cool, damp woodsiness of Bailey's Falls proved a refreshing interval before the next important step—food!

Hike number two then set out for Silent Cliff with Eb Baines as leader while hike number one recuperated. Several rugged individualists ventured out on the lake with rafts and splashed about, while several others, anxious to work off the chocolate cake, followed Bob Anderson ('40, ex-president of the Mountain club) up to the lookout. The fall foliage was put to shame by Bob's multi-colored sleeveless sweater, knit by revengeful Midd women while he was still at college. The trail taken was part of the "Long Trail" which runs from Massachusetts to the Canadian border and is about 260 miles long.

Homeward bound! At Pearson's door, the trucks emptied, and the hikers, with a last spurt of energy and a "do-or-die" expression in their eyes, made tracks for their dorms and that ever-popular invention—the shower!

W. M. MILLER '42 DIES IN RECENT PACIFIC CRASH

Word has been received that another ex-Middlebury student has lost his life in the wartime armed services of the United States.

The parents of Second Lieutenant William M. Miller '42 were officially informed last Saturday, September 23, that their son had been killed in an airplane crash in Hawaii. Further details of the fatal accident have not been forthcoming.

Miller enlisted for service in 1940, and was stationed at Hickam Field, Honolulu, during the surprise Japanese raid last December 7. He was returned there for basic air training at Goodfellow Field, Texas, and was graduated from the Army Air Corps school at Moore Field, Texas, last August.

While a student at Middlebury, Miller won his letter for football and basketball. His fraternity was Kappa Delta Rho.

Club Organization

"The name of the candidate (for membership) shall be submitted to the club for approval when the candidate has satisfied the requirements of earning 125 points as evaluated by the chairmen under whom he has worked. If for any reason the candidate feels that he has completed the requirements and has not been invited to membership, he may submit his application to the secretary-treasurer.

Women's Assembly Members Announced

CAPT. ALAN CARTER

Alan Carter Accepts Post In U.S. Army

Mr. Alan Carter, music instructor at Middlebury since 1939, will report to Camp Mead, Maryland on October 18 to take up his duties as a captain in the Army Specialist corps.

He is one of the youngest men called by the army to act as musical advisor, a position that entails traveling with the army to various fighting zones.

Although he applied for his commission while in Washinton this summer, Mr. Carter expressed surprise at the promptness with which he was called. "I had expected to finish this year at Middlebury, and leave sometime in the spring," he said, "but I am glad that I can serve in the capacity for which I am best fitted."

Besides being a member of the college faculty, Mr. Carter is the organizer and conductor of the Vermont Symphony Orchestra, and its affiliated organizations, and Director of Recreation on the Vermont State Civilian Morale Committee.

Mrs. Carter and her sons will remain in Middlebury while Mr. Carter is traveling with the army.

No Homecoming Plans This Year

The annual Homecoming of Middlebury alumni, scheduled for October 10, will be omitted ths year.

Last fall the Alumni council voted to hold the 1942 Homecoming on the week end of Saturday, October 10. The present gas and tire sutuation, however, now makes it seem inappropriate to urge a return of alumni en masse for a Homecoming this year, and, though any alumni who can arrange to return to Middlebury will be welcome, no special program of Homecoming events will be scheduled as in recent years.

Council Meeting

The one event previously planned for October 10, which will be carried out, is the meeting of the Alumni council at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Middlebury Inn, with members of the council lunching together in the private dining room of the Inn following the meeting. Mr. William F. Pollard, '13, principal of the Needham, Mass, high school and National President of the Associated Alumni, will preside at this meeting, and Dr. Stephen Freeman, Acting President of the College, will discuss with the council the plans of the Administration. The main theme of the fall meeting is "What Middlebury Alumni Can Do for the College in Wartime."

The Athletic department is giving complimentary tickets for the Union-Middlebury football game to the members of the council attending the meeting.

The Alumni council includes the presidents of the nine geographical districts, the class secretaries from 1890 to 1942, the five Alumni Trustees, and special representatives of the faculty and Athletic council.

MORTAR BOARD INVITES WOMEN OF '46 TO OUTING

Mortar Board entertained the freshmen women yesterday evening at the annual Mortar Board picnic at Breadloaf.

The pageant presented by Mortar Board this year was built around the theme that we should each hold fast to our ideals despite the discouragements of the realities about us in the world today.

Before the picnic supper which was supervised by Miss Mary C. Dutton, dietitian, the girls played games. Only two Mountain club trucks were available to take the freshmen women to Breadloaf as a result of war shortages of gas and tires, so they left Battell cottage in two groups, one about 3:00 p. m., the other at about 4:00 p. m.

Mrs. Reginald L. Cook will finish out this year as Mortar Board advisor replacing Mrs. Waldo H. Heinrichs.

Mortar Board reports a profit of about twenty-five dollars from the annual book sale held during the second week of college.

VOL. XL OCTOBER 7, 1942 NO. 5

After a month of college it is apparent that the first love of the men's college has been fraternities only. The college is continuing in its role as the stage upon which the fraternities actors do their bit.

The fact that the war threatens their very existence does not seem to have made much of an impression on the fraternities. They organize a scrap metal drive, but in the same breath refuse to part with those tokens of antiquated greatness which grace the mantle pieces in the form of trophies.

The Men's Assembly recommended that these symbols of grandeur be placed where they would do the most good. The fraternities, however, feel that their utility is greater as decorations and as rewards on the field of intramural combat than as bullets.

Buckle down, Winsocki!

It is customary when achieving greatness and fame to be given the keys of the city. We hereby give you the Blue Key to Middlebury. The keys to a city are worthless—and Middlebury has no walls.

We hereby sell you football programs at two bits a clip, nationally sold for fifteen cents, given away at Williams.

We give you the Blue Key gym dance. We give you Blue Key hats and charms. We GIVE you the Blue Key.

We asked for changes and were given them. We asked for women cheer leaders and now we have them. The football team and the college have been given a new deal.

Saturday we have the first home game.

NOTICES

Lapel decorations are being sold on the women's campus this week for the benefit of the Marion L. Young Scholarship fund. Representatives will be stationed in each dormitory to sell them.

After the football game with the Union college on Saturday, Oct. 10, the first football coffee of the year will take place in Forest recreation room under the direction of Harriet A. Bartels '44.

There will be group singing of college songs, and refreshments will be served to all, free of charge.

Committee chairmen are: Frances F. Head '43, Mabel H. Buttolph '44, Jean V. Ledden '44, S. Elizabeth Mercer '44, Muriel E. Roome '44, and Ann E. Taggart '45.

The following sophomores will be dormitory representatives: Pearsons, Mary E Wisotzkey; Hepburn, Dorothy H. Laux; Forest, Jean Lacey; Battell and Homestead, Jane M. Robertson; Hillcrest and Hillside, Charlotte P. Hickcox; Le Chateau, Janet H. Richmond.

Freshmen interested in trying out for the CAMPUS editorial staff report to Munroe 104 at 3:00 p. m. Thursday. Those who were not at the last meeting bring pencil and paper; those who reported last week bring assignments. Freshmen who are delayed or unable to attend may send their names to the meeting.

W. A. A.

Sports activities in W.A.A. this week were in an intermediary stage between announcement of new sports and the beginning of the tournament season for important fall sports.

Tennis and golf tournaments are in mid-progress, second rounds to have been completed by the end of last week. Hockey and soccer competitions among the classes will not begin until more time has been had for practice and the choosing of positions on the class teams. Student manager in hockey for this season is Charlotte Johnson '43 and in soccer, Carol Hartman '43.

Future activities planned for W.A.A. include the annual Sports day, October 13, incorrectly reported last week as October 18. Faculty and students are welcome to come and watch exhibitions in hockey, soccer, tennis, and archery and to join in fun around a bonfire in the evening. It will last from 4:30 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. and an outdoor supper will be served.

Mary Jane Landes '44 is in charge of an archery contest, plans for which will be ready for announcement next week.

Perils Of War Create Faith, Says Speaker

"These times put us on new ground, and lift us up to new viewpoints" was the quotation which formed the nucleus of the sermon delivered by Dr. A. Grant Noble, chaplain of Williams college, at Sunday vespers.

Since the event at Pearl Harbor, Dr. Noble pointed out that the American people have been changed from 'balcony spectators to fighters in the streets." Letters which he has received from men in armed forces reveal the trend in present religious thought.

Intellectual interest has been replaced by emotional concern. Those who gave a "nodding bow to religion" now ask searching questions concerning the way to get reality into their religious life. They ask to be shown how to pray.

Pray for Strength

Approach to God in the present crisis seems, according to Dr. Noble, similar to that of the Middle Ages when men sought fundamental truths, and raised prayers for the forgiveness of sins. The fact that the approach is made in time of trouble causes many to say that "man creates a God when he needs Him," and only when he fully realizes his weakness does he put his trust in God and pray for strength.

Dr. Noble points out that "things too big for us put us on a mountain top where we can see what is highest." It is then that we know the reality of God, and of the living Christ. Thus we do not actually turn to God in weakness but in the strength of our faith which is supplemented by His power and His strength.

War Marriages

With death an ever impending possibility, Dr. Noble turned to the question of marriage in wartime. He professed that you have a "first vision of eternity when you fall in love." Then the conception of a life after death seems within the realm of understanding, while the present life is stabilized by the vows and bonds of matrimony.

"It is strength we search for" were the closing words of the sermon. Wartime has intensified that realization and has succeeded in transferring our passive attitudes into active ones. Dr. Noble stated with emphasis that "war is refining our lives and making them deeper."

Social Year Plans Made In Committee

The social committee of the Women's College held its first meeting of the year last Tuesday to discuss plans and changes for the women this year.

Several new ideas were discussed at this meeting. Reviving the custom of inviting faculty members to dinner in the dormitory dining rooms when women desire was suggested and discussed, but no final action was taken. The committee also considered serving coffee after dinner in dormitory living rooms on Sundays.

The idea was also discussed for having group singing of all the classes after dinner on certain nights. This would be of great benefit to the freshmen in learning the college songs.

A committee was formed to make out a clothing code for all social functions, including gym dances, teas, Sunday chapel, and Thursday night dinner. This committee is made up of Margaret Dounce '43, Isabel B. Grier '43, and H. Elise Van Leuven '45.

It was decided to have a football coffee to be held at Forest recreation room after this Saturday's homecoming game.

A committee, headed by Virginia I. Wynn '43, was chosen to make out a social calendar for the Women's College.

A discussion was held concerning the time the faculty will entertain the freshmen, but nothing was definitely decided about this.

Miss Van Leuven was unanimously elected recording secretary.

OPINIONS OF THE WEEK

The question in this week's CAMPUS is the same as the one of last week. Last week we printed several opinions of members of the student body. For this week's issue we would like to have the faculty present their views.

What more can Middlebury College do for the war effort than it has done, or is doing at present?

We at Middlebury can and must contribute tremendously more to the war effort than we have in the past. While this contribution may not be so direct as we desire, it is still the most important contribution we can make.

Our contribution is to use efficiently every available minute in the acquisition of the mental and physical skills so necessary for victory in this war. That the armed forces have enlisted reserves in the college today, and that the Director of Selective Service has ordered local boards to consider for occupational deferment all students in good standing majoring in certain technical and specialized fields, is adequate proof that the nation considers our jobs as students and teachers of the utmost importance.

Let's make the most of our opportunity by putting every ounce of our energy into this college work which our government holds so essential!

J. S. Coles

The faculty and administration have not been slow in assuming the responsibilities which have faced the college during these past two years of national effort. . . . .

A complete conversion of our activities to include only those directly associated with defense and the war has been neither possible nor desirable. Liberal arts colleges have recorded notable achievements during normal peaceful years as well as in times of stress, and in the present emergency we are challenged to first make whatever adjustments seem necessary to equip ourselves to perform the normal function of the college under the existing conditions and then get to work as never before.

Only when we no longer have time to wonder whether or not we are doing enough shall we be certain that our contribution is genuine and abundant.

J. G. Bowker

Our caption, at first glance, seem to call for suggestions to improve or enlarge the machinery of w effort in the college.

Let us grant at once the desi ability of our being alert to t necessity of alteration in our pre ent set-up as changing needs m dictate. We all have enough of t typical American faith in the effic ency of machinery to accomplis things and pleasure in playng wi the cogs and gadgets to ensu attention to them.

Yet all this is merely a device help us coordinate our efforts towa a necessary and immediate purpos To win the war, important as th is, is not enough. We must emer from it with hearts and minds a ready turned to the glories of th new day that will break after th night is gone. This double purpose training for immediate usefulness the war effort, and long-rang preparation for the post-war perio can be achieved best by each o of us individually.

The really fundamental way t improve our war effort at Middle bury lies perfectly plain before u We shall be certain of continue improvement the nearer we com to that ideal state in which every one connected with the college cheerfully putting his best int everything he does, whether tha means conductng an experiment a technical course in chemistry physics or preparing the next as signment in French or music.

Total war is total war; every thing counts. And someday we ar going to be face to face with tota peace.

R. H. White

With regard to our general pro gram I believe we are doing al that we can. I should like t suggest, however, that even th most trivial means of contributio be properly canvassed. Thes should include blood donations t the Red Cross, and contribution of clothing from the women's col lege.

The regular purchase of Wa Savings Stamps by each studen could be encouraged. Fraternitie and sororities could profitably se aside a portion of their budget fo War Bonds. In particular, th social chairman ought to be awar that for the price of the mos modest trinkets presented as "favor" one can literally feed Chinese child for a month, an some of them are dying.

In conclusion, I should say tha there are no arguments for an

Wednesday. The Dekes got the jump on the DU's in their football game by scoring two quick touchdowns the first time they had the ball. Pete Harris threw a scoring pass to Bill Calkins on the third play of the game, and after an interception, Fred Lapham tossed a short pass that Ken Moore carried over for a second touchdown. DKE had several other scoring opportunities in the first half, but couldn't put it over. The DU's came back strong in the second half and stopped the Deke attack effectively. Late in the third period, a short Deke pass was intercepted by Joe Fuchs who tossed it to Vance Richardson for a DU score.

On the same afternoon, the Sig Eps defeated Theta Chi in golf. The Theta Chi-Sigma Alpha tennis match was postponed.

SPE Stops KDR

Thursday. Sig Ep showed itself to be one of the strongest teams in the league when they took over KDR 20 to 13, by playing heads up ball all of the way. SPE scored two quick touchdowns in the first period, one on a pass to Herb Taylor and another on a runback of a kick in which almost the entire team handled the ball. Both teams played evenly until an Ensinger to Ensinger pass clicked for the KDR's 1st touchdown. The Sig Eps came right back to score on the return of the kick off to clinch the game. KDR made a last minute score, to make the final total 20 to 13.

Alpha Sigs Win in Tennis

Although Arnold Kivelson upset Gordy Matthews, the Alpha Sig's number one man, the ASP stopped the Neutrals 2 to 1 in team tennis.

Friday. The Neutrals defaulted to Theta Chi in touch football. DKE defeated DU in tennis 2-0, the third match was not finished.

Monday. The Chi Psi's and the DU's replayed their tie game, with the latter finally coming out on top. Bill Shock scored for Chi Psi in the first period to give them a short-lived 6-0 lead. DU came right back to tie it up at 6 all on a touchdown by Will Bangs, and went ahead in the second period when Robin Willets tossed a pass to Vance Richardson for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Chi Psi gave DKE its first loss of the year, by defeating them in golf 2 to 1.

Tuesday. The KDR's whitewashed the Chi Psi's in touch football, winning 26 to 0. Harry Walsh scored in the first period on a pass from Ray Walsh, and a few plays later, Ferd Ensinger scored on a 15 yard run. In the second period, Ray Walsh threw another touchdown pass, this one to Ferd Ensinger. Loat in the fourth period Ray Walsh scored the last touchdown on an intercepted pass.

Chi Psi trimmed DU in golf 2 to 0 to remain undefeated

Harriers Lose To Springfield

Team To Meet Williams At Williamstown Friday

In their opening meet, last Saturday, Middlebury's cross country team was defeated by a powerful Springfield combine, by a score of 37-18. The winning factor of the race was a three way tie for first, going to the "Gymnasts."

With a 4.7 mile course as their goal, the three Springfielders led the pack with a finishing time of 24:15 minutes. Following in fourth place was Midd's co-captain Paul Davis with a time of 24:50 minutes. The remaining six men matched themselves evenly in the finishing lineup, with Dick Kinsey placing fifth in the race and second for Midd. The other Middmen finished as follows, Haines, seventh; Stebbins, eighth; Parker, ninth; Goodrich and Gilbert, eleventh and twelfth. The course was slightly longer than our home trail, but not quite as hilly.

For Springfield, the three way tie went to two veterans and a freshman. Crane, Booth and Smith who all ran a very hard race. Aside from this strong first place, the remaining harriers were evenly scattered at the finish line.

This coming Friday the team will again travel from home to race the Williams harriers, at Williamstown, Mass. The exact number and names of the men taking the trip have not been announced, but it is felt that the same squad will be on hand, with the possible addition of Dick Setter, who was not in the running last week due to illness.

Midd Bows To Tufts, 12-0 In Hard-Fought Gridiron Scrap

Weak Pass Offense And Defense Hinders Midd Team

Medford, Mass. Oct. 3—Failure to capitalize on the breaks cost The Middlebury football team the chance for victory today; meanwhile, Tufts took advantage of its opportunities and went on to win 12 to 0. The Jumbomen showed distinct superiority in the air, both offensively and defensively. Pass interceptions stopped three Midd drives within the 15 yard stripe and Tufts completed six out of ten tosses.

Midd Threatens

The Panthers won the toss, and elected to receive. Johnny Urban ran the kickoff back to the 26, and after two short gains, Holly Hollister quick kicked out of bounds on the Tufts 26. On the first play, Bisset of Tufts fumbled, and Holly recovered on the 37 yard line. Walt Swift then took the ball off tackle, broke through into the secondary and ran to the 10 yard stripe before he was downed. An end sweep lost three yards, but Ed Cooke gained it back and a yard more on the next play. The next play was a pass, but Fortin intercepted on the goal line, and ran the ball to the Tufts 25. Fortin and Bisset combined to give the Jumbos a first down on the 37, but then they were forced to kick.

Panthers Get Breaks

Again the Blue and White took to the air, and Bisset intercepted on the Tufts 43. Bisset kicked out of bounds on the Midd 17 after the attack stalled. Urban kicked out of danger to the Midd 47. On fourth down, Fortin attempted to kick but was rushed and elected to run with the ball. Urban nailed him on the 47, and the Panthers had another break. The offensive bogged down, so Urban kicked. Foster received the ball on the 15, but fumbled, and Art Pepin recovered for Midd. Sheehan gained two yards, then tried another pass. Bisset intercepted in the end zone, and ran to the Jumbo's 47 before being tackled.

Tufts Scores

Following up their advantage, the Medford boys struck through the air. A Bisset to Sampson pass was good to the Midd 42. Rutter took the ball on an end sweep and got away to the 17 yard line. Bisset picked up seven more, then made it a first down on the Blue and White 7. Rutter went around left end to the 3, and Burns picked up another yard. On fourth down, Rutter went through center for the touchdown. An attempted fake kick pass was no good, so the score remained 6 to 0.

The rest of the half resolved itself to a kicking duel between Bisset and Sheehan, with all of the action taking place between he 35 yard lines.

Second Half

Tufts kicked off—deliberately putting the ball out of bounds. The Panther attack stalled so Urban quick kicked, Foster running the ball back to the home team's 42. Bisset then kicked to the Midd 6 yard line. Holly kicked out to the 42, but Foster ran it back to the 31. Fortin then threw a pass to Sampson which was good for 22 yards. Bisset went through center to the 5 yard marker. Fortin drove to the 1 yard line. The Midd defense tightened and with last down and one foot to go, Fortin tried to plunge through center, but the Panther forward wall rose up and pushed him back, and Midd got the ball on downs.

Foster Makes Touchdown

Holly kicked to the Tufts 48, and the home team revived its passing attack, Bisset clicked to Foster on the Midd 37, and again to Price, who made a spectacular catch, on the 23. Fortin gained three yards, and Foster ran around end to the nine before Charlie Puksta knocked him out of bounds. Midd stopped this drive when Dan Colyer recovered a fumble on the ten, but Sheehan's kick was run back to the 33, and Tufts was threatening again. This time they succeeded on the first play, Foster running around right end, cut back through the center and outraced the Panther secondary to score standing up. The attempted conversion was no good, and Tufts led 12 to 0.

The Jumbomen again angled the kickoff out of bounds, and the Panthers took the offensive on their own 35. Sheehan punted out of bounds on the 11. Bisset picked up 18 yards around right end, but the attack was stopped cold after that. A poor kick, which went out of bounds on the Tufts 43, gave the Guarnaccia men another break.

Midd Moves to 2 yd. Line

Lindner made it a first down on the 32 via a quarterback sneak. Lindner then completed a pass to Art Pepin on the 17 for another first down. Bobo Sheehan, on the end of a lateral, made five yards around left end. Lindner went through center for a first down on the five. Lindner picked up another yard, and Swift two more, to place the ball on the 2 yard stripe. Once more Midd failed, an attempted pass was intercepted in the end zone by Burns for an automatic touchback, and Tufts was give the ball on the 20.

BILL BOARD

BY

CALKINS

How can we say that Midd should have won the Tufts game if it had capitalized on the breaks, when the statistics are so definitely in favor of the Jumbos?

The game had just about gotten under way when the Panthers got their first break, recovering a Tufts fumble on the 37. Then Walt Swift broke away and made a nice run to the 10 yard line. If the Blue and White had pushed over this score, they not only would have had the material advantage of one touchdown, but they would have had the added psychological impetus that naturally results.

Coach Guarnaccia has spent this week working on modifications of the T formation designed to give the ball carrier more protection, and to give a more varied attack. Mert Stevens looks like a capable ball carrier, and Holly Hollister is switched back into the line where he performed so well in his freshman year. Tom Rooney will be in shape too. These changes and additions, combined with the fact that they will be playing on the home field for the first time, should make a difference in the Panther attack this week. It helps to have an entire student body behind you when the going gets tough—when you're down on the two yard line with two downs left to score, it's much better to hear "We want a touchdown!" than "Hold that line!"

We've been pleading for a good showing from the student body all year. Here, in summary, are three precepts which the student body could and ought to follow: 1— Be in the stands when the starting whistle blows—at two o'clock. 2—Know your songs and cheers well, and make them loud and long. 3—Stick with the team till the final gun sounds, no matter what the outcome.

The team will do its best for the students. Let's reciprocate.

Golfers Take Pittsford C.C.

Four Teams To Compete At Hanover This Saturday

Middlebury's fall golf team will travel to Hanover, N. H., this Friday to play a quadrangular match. Dartmouth, Williams, Colgate, and Middlebury are scheduled to meet Saturday morning at 10 on the Dartmouth course.

Bill Engesser, Sandy Young, Don Bates, Al Wolfley, Chuck Scott, and Ray Fox will make the trip to represent Midd. This match should bring forth some of the best intercollegiate golf in the East. Earlier in the season, Williams took over the Panther linksmen 9 to 0 on their home course.

Score 6½--2½

Last Sunday the college golf team won a match arranged with a picked team of Proctor and Pittsford players at the Pittsford country club. Coach Les Frasier's charges scored a 6½ to 2½ win. Sandy Young and Bill Engesser lost their match to Joe Candon and Henry Duskett 2 to 1. Don Bates and Al Wolfley both won their individual matches and also won best ball to post a 3-0 win over Bob Bain and Jim O'Shea of the locals. Ray Fox won his match, Chuck Scott halved his, and the two won best ball, and defeated Charlie McDeavitt and Almo Tenerani 2½ to ½.

NETMEN WIN TWO LOSE ONE MATCH

Defeat St. Mikes, UVM; Streak Ended By Dartmouth

The tennis team ran its two season victory string to eight straight by trimming St. Michaels on September 26 by a 9-0 count. Sharlie Proctor, Tom Macdonald, Al Hadley, Len Rice, Seab Short, and Addison Merrick, playing numbers 1 to 6 respectively, all won their matches easily. Proctor and Short played number one doubles, Macdonald and Rice number two, and Hadley and Merrick the number three doubles—all three teams winning though not as easily as in the singles.

Playing without Charlie Baird and Phil Dunham, who played number four and five on last year's successful net squad, the Panthers lost to a strong Dartmouth team by an 8 to 1 count on Wednesday, September 30 at Hanover. The second doubles team of Tom Macdonald and Len Rice won its match in a three set battle from Berthold and Kuhn of the Indians to give Midd its only win.

Summary: Singles—Cohen (D) defeated Proctor 6-3, 6-2, Woods (D) defeated Haines 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, Judge (D) defeated Macdonald 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, Olsen (D) defeated Rice, 6-1, 6-4, Kenworthy (D) defeated Hadley, 6-2, 7-5. Doubles: Cohen and Caldwell (D) defeated Proctor and Haines 6-2, 9-7, Macdonald and Rice (M) defeated Berthold and Kuhn, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, Sherwood and Mann (D) defeated Merrick and Hadley 6-4, 6-2.

Last Saturday at Burlington, Midd bounced back into the win column by stopping UVM 6-3.

Summary: Singles — Proctor (M) defeated Manjoney 6-2, 6-0, Macdonald (M) defeated Gipstein 6-2, 6-2, Rice (M) defeated Wicker 5-7, 6-3, 8-6, Harvey (V) defeated Hadley 6-2, 4-6, 7-5, West (V) defeated Sackett 7-5, 6-4, Short (M) defeated Black 6-2, 4-6, 7-5. Doubles— Macdonald and Rice (M) defeated Manjoney and Gipstein 6-4, 6-3, Proctor and Short (M) defeated West and Keighly 6-2, 6-2, Black and Harvey (V) defeated Sackett and Hadley 6-1, 7-5.

Panthers To Battle Union Sat.

Midd Prepared To Meet Strong Garnet Line On Home Field

UNBEATEN UNION RULES FAVORITE

Three days from today starts Middlebury's big fall event, Homecoming weekend. On Saturday afternoon, the Panther eleven will play their first game on home grounds against an undefeated Union team.

Two Saturdays ago Union held a strong Trinity team to a 19 to 19 tie, and last week beat Hobert 32 to 7. At first glance this would seem to show a favored Union team in Saturday's contest, but now that Coach Guarnaccia's boys have had the benefit of two weeks experience with their newly acquired T formation, and with the advantage of playing on the home field, there may be a different story written this week.

Stevens Shows Promise

Mert Stevens has been working out in the backfield for the past week and a half, and shows promise of developing into a good ball carrier. He will probably see action this week.

Coach Field expressed satisfaction over the work of the line on defense Saturday, but said that there was still work to be done on the offense. The backs seemed to lack drive in Saturday's skirmish. Walt Swift, leading ground gainer against Tufts, has gone down to New York to see his local draft board. Co captain Earle Bishop's leg is improving rapidly, but it is doubtful if he will be able to get into the game by Saturday.

JV's To Play On Saturday

Squad Of Thirty-five To Meet Green Mt. In 1st Game

This Saturday the as yet untried J. V. football squad will have their season's opener against the Green Mountain junior college eleven at Poultney, Vt. The team will leave at noon on Saturday

In the last two weeks, the J. V.'s have grown from an original ten men to the imposing figure of 35. Coach "Randy" Hoffman has great hopes for the team, and, with the idea that everyone will play in the game, will try to take close to three teams on the trip.

Line-up Not Certain

As yet no definite line ups have been made, but it is evident that Randy has a pretty good idea derived from the showing made in the two scrimmages that have been held so far. Using identical plays and formations as the varsity, the J. V.'s made an excellent showing against the heavier second string of Coach Guarnaccia's squad, showing that the two weeks of comparative secret coaching has not been in vain. Just what will be the outcome of Saturday's game cannot be prophesied but, from the spirit and fight that the team has shown up to now, we can safely say that it will be no push-over for the Green Mountain boys.

The squad line up is as follows: ends: Hubbard '44, Huizer '44, Bailey '46, Brucks '46, Hennig '46, MacGuire '46; tackles; Booth '44, DePodwin '44, Hebert '44, Huxley '44, Hunt '46, Hyde '46, Stephanak '46; guards; Fuchs '45, Coursey '46, Fulton '46, Paul Gale '46, Littlefield '46, Parker '46, Seixas '46: centers; Goddard '46, Greenwood '46, Whittier '46, quarter backs; Calkins '44, Kilgallen '46, Sackett '46: half backs; Dunham '45, Hendrix '45, Hitchner '45, Cocola '46, Kolzak '44, Myrick '46: full backs; Frank '44, Bennett '45, Wolfley '45, Brown '46.

College Was Men's World In 1800, But Times Have Changed At Midd

By Jean V. Ledden '44

"Know Ye, That I the said Isaac Tichenor by virtue of Authority in me vested, and in pursuance of a certain Act of the Legislature. . . . passed the first day on November in the Year of our Lord eighteen hundred, entitled An Act incorporating and establishing a College at Middlebury in the county of Addison—do, by these Presents will, ordain, and grant, that there be, and there is hereby granted, instituted, and established, a College in the Town of Middlebury in the County of Addison. . . ."

And so Middlebury College came into being.

Inaccessible Vault

Isaac Tichenor, Esquire, "Governor and Commander in Chief in, and over the State of Vermont," probably did not stop to think, as he painstakingly penned his way through this original charter, that a college increased by many hundrel percent would, some hundred and forty odd years later, read his words in a weekly "machine printed" paper.

Nor could he have known that his work, now a yellowed, dog-eared almost illegible sheaf of parchment, would be so carefully preserved in a long, narrow tin casing in that inaccessible of inaccessibles, the business manager's vault.

Female Attendance

And if you had ventured to mention the possibilities of female attendance in this "College at Middlebury in the County of Addison," the old man would merely have taken an extra pinch of snuff, given you a quizzical glance, and continued with his writing. Women? Of course not! College was a man's affair.

And so he continued writing. "And that Mess. Jeremiah Atwater, Nathaniel Chipman, ... Gamaliel Painter, ... Seth Storrs . . . . Daniel Chipman. . . shall be an incorporate Society, or Body corporate and politic, and shall hereafter be called and known by the Name of the President and Fellows of MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE. . . . . and shall have power to appoint a scribe, or register, a treasurer, tutors, professors, steward, and butler, and such other officers, and servents as are usually appointed in Colleges and Universities, as they shall find necessary and think fit to appoint, for promoting good Literature. . . and managing the affairs of said College.

". . . and shall have power from time to time, as occasion may require, to make, ordain, and establish all such wholesome and reasonable Laws. . . not repugnant to the Constitution, and Laws of this State, or the United States, as they shall think fit and proper for the instruction and education of the Students. . . ."

Powers of President

"And that the President of said College with the consent of the Fellows, shall have power to give and confer all such honors, derees, or licenses, as are usually given in Colleges or Universities, upon such as they shall think worthy thereof."

Then, showing that the state of Vermont was behind this new venture into the academic world, Tichenor closed the charter saying that, up to the value of two thousand dollars, the lands of the college were not to be taxed, and up to the value of one thousand dollars, the estates and "the persons of the Tutors, Students, and such and so many of the servants of said College as give their constant attendance on the business of it, shall be freed and exempted from all rates, taxes, military service, working at highways, or other such like duties and services."

And so Isaac Tichenor signed his name, deeming the affair of the Middlebury charter closed.

But it was not closed, for, just one hundred and three years later, another Middlebury charter came into being, entitled: "An Act Authorizing The President and Fellows of Middlebury College to Establish An Institution For The Higher Education of Women."

Isaac Tichenor, long since dead, would have stared with wondering eyes at the words that flowed from the pen of Frederick G. Fleetwood, secretary of the state of Vermont, on January 26, 1903.

Courses of Study

"Courses of study shall be given in said institution of a grade the same as, or equivalent to, the courses given to the men of Middlebury College, and the same or similar degrees shall be awarded to graduates of the institution so established, as shall be given for like or similar work to men graduating from said College."

College a man's affair? No longer!

CLASSIC MUSIC WILL COMPRISE OCT. 11 PROGRAM

Sonatas by Brahms and Grieg, and some early Italian songs will make up the program to be presented by the music department on Sunday night at 7:30 in Mead chapel.

This musical program, which was planned for mid-October has been pushed up because of Mr. Carter's impending departure for the army. It is the second of a series of similar concerts which are planned for this year.

Mr. Alan Carter and Prof. Dan P. Dickinson will play two piano sonatas. Prof. H. Ward Bedford will sing several Italian songs.

The public is invited to attend these concerts. There will be no charge for admission.

Among the selections to be played by Mr. Carter and Prof. Dickinson will be the Sonata in A Major, by Brahms, and Grieg's Sonata in E Major for piano and violin.

NEW CO-ED BAND TO PLAY AT GAME

With a baton-twirling drum-major, a repertoire of new parade formations, and several new songs, the college band will make their first formal appearance in Middlebury next Saturday afternoon. They will march and play at the annual Home-coming football game, to be held with Union college, on Porter field.

Donald G. Bates '46, will act as drummajor, and will attempt to toss the baton over the goal posts, and catch it, and continue twirling.

Band membership was opened to the women's college for the first time this year. Ten women have reported, to form one of the few co-ed bands in the East. The women "have increased interest in band, and have bettered the music," says Lou Haines '43, director.

less diligent application to the main business of getting an education.

C. H. Kaiser

It is possible for Middlebury College to do more than it is at present doing to forward the war effort in a very specific way. It could mobilize man-power to help tide the farmers over their periods of seasonal stress.

One farmer within two miles of the campus told that, with the induction of three sons into the army, his need for help had become so acute he must either give up farming or retrench, and to retrench means to cut production to the margin of home consumption. His brother who works another farm has already collapsed from overwork.

Our Secretary of Agriculture says, "Food will win the war and write the peace." It is entirely possible that Mr. Wickard's dictum will be tested by the success or failure of the American farm front, and this is the front which most immediately surrounds the campus.

There is a second way of forwarding the war effort. It is through the direct participation of every student in the democratic processes within his own student assemblies. For, once he really becomes aware of the depth of his rights and the breadth of his responsibilities, it is very unlikely that he will ever find any sacrifice too great for a democratic society which must first be believed in before it can be convincingly defended. R. L. Cook

At the risk of sounding "preachy" and bromidic, I should like to quote a saying of one of my aunts: "Do the duty that lies nearest you. Your next duty will then have become clear."

It seems to me that our duty at present is to "carry on" to the best of our resources, being sure that it is to the best, and that we are not just "letting George" do our share. Take an inventory. Are you contributing to the Red Cross? Are you cooperating with various war agencies working, in the long run, for our peace? (I understand that the War Bond and Stamp quota for Addison County for last month fell short. That should not be. Someone is not contributing.)

If we train ourselves to make these small sacrifices of time and money, I feel sure that Middlebury College is doing its duty, its nearest duty.

FIRST SALE HELD FOR THRIFT SHOP

M. deLanux Addresses Forum Members

The Women's Forum held its first Thrift shop sale of the year last Saturday afternoon in Battell block from 2 to 4 o'clock.

According to Virginia L. Carpenter '43, in charge of the Thrift shop, this sale broke all previous records of attendance and profit. Proceeds amounted to $31.48. This is more than has ever been taken in before. All sale money goes to the Community house fund for the work done there.

Forum has more clothes in reserve and will have a sale every Saturday at the same time. Each week different members of the organization interested in this branch of work take charge and sell the clothes.

On Wednesday evening at 7:15 in Forest recreation hall, Prof. Pierre de Lanux of the contemporary civilization department spoke informally to members of Forum on the international situation and affairs during the summer. Barbara B. Higham '43, introduced the speaker who gave his interpretation of the news, though he stated that comparatively little of importance had occurred during the summer.

The next Forum meeting will be a panel discussion, which will be held in three weeks.

New Rushing Rule

pected violations of the rushing rules. However, no new cases have been brought before the Council for adjudication since the first fine was imposed two weeks ago.

Imposition of a strict "no-relations" period, to extend until after the completion of rushing was considered as a possible method of checking the growing tendency of both freshmen and upperclassmen alike to disregard the rules of the Council. However this suggestion was discarded in favor of the restriction on the freshmen.

At the same session, the Interfraternity council declined to take any direct action on the recommendation referred to it by the Men's Assembly in regard to disposing of the intramural trophy cups. Along the same lines however, the group did decide to sponsor a college scrap metal drive.
